I want to work hard in my skiing and see what level I'm able to reach and to continue to improve and enjoy it. I also want to help others whether that is through skiing in the future I am not sure, but my other aspiration is to become a sports physiotherapist. I have come further in skiing than I thought I would, being selected for the english team and getting to participate in alpine races-meeting lots of amazing and inspirational people such as my friends and associates within skiing which push me to try harder in turn.
