I am a cheerleader at heart with the desire to model, so why not combine my two loves into one! I didn't have the normal start to life as those around me. I was a safe-haven baby that was loved so much by my birth mother that she decided to give me a better life with my adoptive mom and dad. I love my story and am proud to speak about it. My plans for the future are to continue cheering, as long as possible, while taking advantage of my athletic frame and height to become a mainstream name in the modeling industry. Look out world, Olivia is on her way!!

This is Emma's first year of competitive dancing and her third year in dance. Emma's main goal is to one day choreograph her own dances and see others perform them. Her biggest challenge is beating herself up when she can't get that one move on the first or second try. She is a spunky sassy little lady that won't quit trying and gives it her all. Her main goal is hoping to perform a solo in the next year or two. Emma has a lot of confidence in herself and she will continue to keep shining and she will reach her goals! Emma has a huge fan crowd rooting for her!

My dream is to one day be a teacher and a judge at dance conventions all over the world! Some of my favorite achievements are: landing my aerial, placing 5th for my first solo performance, receiving two photogenic awards and winning 1st place overall for a duet I did with my brother. Right now, my main goal is to perfect my new contemporary solo and hopefully win 1st place. Also, I would like to be able to do a full back tuck.

One of my biggest challenges is having to dance with a heart condition. It's called Supraventricular Tachycardia. Basically, my heart will start beating really really fast or really really hard for no reason - sometimes in the middle of the night! If it happens when I'm dancing, I have to stop and do handstands against the wall to try and slow it down. I'm having surgery to fix it very soon. Wish me luck!

I am a scientist and photographer living in the Washington DC area. Early on, I was mainly a landscape and wild-life photographer. As an outdoor photographer, I was fortunate enough to travel to many countries in six continents and capture many unique and beautiful moments. In the past two years, I have become passionate about portrait photography capturing the spirit and essence of people. Being a scientist, I love experimenting with my photography whatever the genre.

A chance opportunity to do a photoshoot with few very talented photographers in the DC, Maryland and Virginia (DMV) and extremely talented models from a Virginia based Gabbana Modeling agency led to this amazing photoshoot with Jocelyn at a local lake in Gaithersburg, MD. We took our time doing the photoshoot and at the same time having fun and documenting all of the moments. Jocelyn Agüero is from Chile and has an Italian/Spaniard heritage. She loves inspirational music. Her family was always into art, specifically paintings. She also loves photography. I am so glad to have worked with Jocelyn and looking forward to working with her again
