I'm a 34 year old martial artist from Belgium.

I've been practicing martial arts since I was 17 years old.

Most of those years I trained taekwondo kicking techniques.

Martial arts is a part of who I am and how i express myself everyday.

My goal in martial arts is not to win the biggest trophy, but to become the best version of myself. Everyday I try to overcome my own limitations.

I'm very proud of what i have achieved and now it's time to show the world what you are capable of if one is committed to the passion that lies in everyone of us.

Tim

I am 5 years old, I started my training in MMA and Brazilian Ju-Jitsu 6 months ago. I absolutely love this sport as it keeps me happy and healthy. It's also learning me discipline, respect and self defence. I hope to become a professional UFC fighter one day.

Julian Cuellar

My journey in Jiu Jitsu started 6 years ago. I was Signed up by my father into my very first academy back in 2016. I had no idea what he got me into. Little did I know, I fell in love with this world of Jiu Jitsu , winning matches, sparring with teammates. I have had the privilege of meeting world champions & sharing mats with them. I have met many coaches & professors from many academies I've been invited to & I must say it's always a lesson learned everywhere I go. I've rolled with many talented kids my age or a little older, I've learned from them just as they have learned from me. I've learned to be humble in this sport, because as my prof. JT Torres says "you will have your good days in Jiu Jitsu, but also your bad ones" which means I must keep going no matter what situation . I must continue to give it my all. I have Many dreams for myself, I set daily goals for myself . One of my dreams is to give my parents all they are giving me now by becoming a champion. I want To be that for them but most importantly for myself. I know I can & I will. On 2019 I told My parents I wanted To do World Pans & I went For it , I didnt Get gold but I did achieved a lot by being there. I became Braver, mentally and physically stronger. I will Be back . In the Jiu Jitsu world there will always be challenges. There will be kids more advanced than me, many strategies I wont Get the first time , but I know One thing, if I stay focused, strong, motivated, humble & have fun with the process I know I can reach my goals because HARD WORK WORKS ! That's the Essential Mentality .

I have a very rare autoimmune disorder that makes it challenging to train. I have daily physical pain BUT I don't let that stop me from training six-seven days a week. Some of my goals is to earn my 4th degree black belt from USSD. I want to teach tournament chucks to people. I would love to be picked up by a team for all my hard work. I earned 35 medals from last years Zoom and send in your video tournaments. I earned 17 medals from the Sports Martial Arts (SMA) tournament. The 1st

SMA tournament was last month. I earned six 1st places and four 2nd places. I participate in ten events. A big goal for me is to have the martial arts community to know my name. Here are some of quotes that I say daily before I train: "Yes I CAN" I CAN do this" "I'm Possible" "I will not fall. I will stand tall. Feels like no one can beat me" "Success is my only option. Failure is not."

Luca

Hello my name is Lewis, I am 11 years old and I'm a Brazilian jiu jitsu athlete and currently a grey & white belt. I have been doing this martial art for just one year. My dream is to win the ADCC and the IBJJF black belt world championships.

My goals this year is to win the Elite BJJ worlds, European, Internationals GI & NOGi, The British open GI & NOGI and also Grappling industries. I would like to end the year as a solid grey belt too.

So far I have managed to win the NOGI British

Open in December 2021 and last month I won both GI & NOGI Junior National championships submitting all my opponent's in GI. I have also won local competitions this year too.

The challenges are to continue to improve my jiu jitsu as the competition grows tougher. I need to stay focused on my dreams and not let any set backs stop me achieving my goals.

Look out for me this year as I aim to capture some big medals.
